ELECTION 2012

FACT SHEET: IDAHO

Entering office amid an economic crisis, President Obama has consistently fought for the middle class, protecting children, and education. Here is just some of what has been achieved in Idaho.

Strengthening the middle class

- The current tax system is NOT fair: In 2010, Idaho corporations paid $98 million in state income taxes and individuals paid $1.1 billion — 11 times more. (Source: U.S. Census Bureau, State Government Tax Collections Summary Report: 2010)

- The Social Security payroll tax cut instituted by President Obama is a first step to leveling the playing field — $1,000 more in take-home pay for a middle class family earning $50,000 a year. (Source: U.S. Department of the Treasury)

- Over the last two decades, on average the income of the richest 20% of families in Idaho rose by nearly $31,000 while the income of the poorest 20% of families in Idaho rose by about $4,000 — eight times more. February 2012
Supporting educators, modernizing schools

- As a result of President Obama’s support for the Education Jobs Fund, signed into law in August 2010, Idaho received $52 million that helped keep teachers in the classroom, limit increases in class size, and contain layoffs of counselors, classroom aides, and other education support professionals. At its peak, the Education Jobs Fund supported nearly 900 education jobs throughout the state. (Source: U.S. Department of Education)

- The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, signed into law by President Obama in February 2009, funded more than 3,500 education jobs in Idaho. (Source: U.S. Department of Education)

- President Obama’s American Jobs Act, which the Republican Congress continues to block, would provide $160 million for education jobs, $94 million to modernize schools, and $11 million for community colleges in Idaho. (Source: A State by State Guide to the American Jobs Act, whitehouse.gov)

Improving health care

- The Affordable Care Act has brought peace of mind to 934,000 people in Idaho — they no longer have to worry about lifetime limits. (Source: U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, The Health Care Law & You, healthcare.gov)

- In 2011, nearly 6,000 young adults in Idaho could remain on their parents’ health plans until age 26 — and that number will grow in 2012. Before the Affordable Care Act, many college graduates and other young adults had no insurance. (Source: U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, The Health Care Law & You, healthcare.gov)
