ELECTION 2012

FACT SHEET: MISSISSIPPI

Entering office amid an economic crisis, President Obama has consistently fought for the middle class, protecting children, and education. Here is just some of what has been achieved in Mississippi.

Strengthening the middle class

- The current tax system is NOT fair: In 2010, Mississippi corporations paid $316 million in state income taxes and individuals paid $1.4 billion — four times more. (Source: U.S. Census Bureau, State Government Tax Collections Summary Report: 2010)

- The Social Security payroll tax cut instituted by President Obama is a first step to leveling the playing field — $1,000 more in take-home pay for a middle class family earning $50,000 a year. (Source: U.S. Department of the Treasury)

- Over the last two decades, on average the income of the richest 20% of families in Mississippi rose by nearly $40,000 while the income of the poorest 20% of families in Mississippi rose by about $2,700 — 15 times more. Making college affordable

- President Obama has preserved Pell grants for nearly 120,000 students in Mississippi. (Source: U.S. Department of Education)

- Last year alone, the American Opportunity Tax Credit introduced by President Obama helped make college tuition affordable for 86,000 families in Mississippi. (Source: U.S. Department of the Treasury, Office of Tax Analysis)

February 2012
Supporting educators, modernizing schools

- As a result of President Obama’s support for the Education Jobs Fund, signed into law in August 2010, Mississippi received $98 million that helped keep teachers in the classroom, limit increases in class size, and contain layoffs of counselors, classroom aides, and other education support professionals. At its peak, the Education Jobs Fund supported nearly 3,400 education jobs throughout the state. (Source: U.S. Department of Education)

- The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, signed into law by President Obama in February 2009, funded more than 2,500 education jobs in Mississippi. (Source: U.S. Department of Education)

- President Obama’s American Jobs Act, which the Republican Congress continues to block, would provide $290 million for education jobs, $335 million to modernize schools, and $63 million for community colleges in Mississippi. Improving health care

- In 2011, Mississippi received $3.1 million for school-based health centers that provide screenings, conduct health promotion and disease prevention activities, and enable children with acute or chronic illnesses to attend school. - The Affordable Care Act has brought peace of mind to 1.4 million people in Mississippi — they no longer have to worry about lifetime limits. (Source: U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, The Health Care Law & You, healthcare.gov)

- In 2011, nearly 17,000 young adults in Mississippi could remain on their parents’ health plans until age 26 — and that number will grow in 2012. Before the Affordable Care Act, many college graduates and other young adults had no insurance. (Source: U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, The Health Care Law & You, healthcare.gov)
