Dear Congressional Leadership,

On behalf of the undersigned organizations, representing the nation's educators and education leaders—those doing great work to keep our nation's students learning and supported in these unprecedented circumstances—we write to express our strong, unified support for clear, direct and immediate bipartisan efforts to provide both policy and fiscal relief to state and local education agencies.

The nation's state chiefs, superintendents, state and local school board members, principals, teachers, educators and school and student support staff are working around the clock to support students, teachers, school staff and parents on what matters most right now in this unprecedented public health crisis: their health and safety. We are navigating challenges, such as providing meals, quality instruction and child care for essential personnel, in an environment that has never previously existed. To the extent that the federal government can provide flexibility via waivers and inject funding to support state and local capacity to address the impact of COVID-19 the education system and students, such leadership will bolster and support the critical work going on in our nation's communities.

We stand ready to work with you on this important investment.

Sincerely,
